WASHINGTON.

The House in Session at 2:30 this Morning.

CONGRESSMEN BECOME MUSICAL.

An Amended Spanish Treaty Submitted to the Senate—Meeting of the Democratic National Committee—Washington Notes.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Hoar submitted a proposed amendment to the sundry civil bill appropriating $1,000 for the woman's department at the New Orleans exposition and moved that it be made in open order without reference to committee if the senate bill should come to be considered. Agreed to.

Hoar gave notice that to-morrow he would ask a vote of the senate without debate on the proposed woman's suffrage constitutional amendment.

The fortification bill was laid before the senate and referred.

Allison from the committee on appropriations reported the sundry civil bill and asked that it be taken up, which was done.

Of the 102 printed pages comprising the bill about fifty pages had been disposed of at half past 3 o'clock. The portion disposed of included an appropriation of $8,868 to reimburse ex-President Hayes for the amount paid for the expenses of the commission appointed to go to Louisiana in April, 1877. The senate agreed to this item and to most other recommendations of the committee without division or debate.

Pending reading of the sundry civil bill Allison, remarking that the committee on appropriations desired an evening session, moved that the senate take a recess from 6 to 8 o'clock.

Aldrich offered the following joint resolution, which was read the second time and laid upon the table to be called up hereafter:

Resolved, That the president of the United States be requested to enter into negotiations with the states of the Latin union and such other foreign powers as he shall deem advisable, with the purpose of securing such treaties with them as shall bind the nations agreeing thereto to open their respective mints to the free coinage of silver with full legal tender power at such a uniform ratio to gold as shall be agreed upon.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

The senate went into executive session, and when the doors opened legislative business was proceeded with.

Allison submitted a conference report announcing agreement on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. Allison said every item had been agreed on except that relating to clerks of senators, as to which the house conferrees refused to agree.

Plumb submitted a conference report on the postoffice appropriation bill. He explained that all differences had been reconciled except three, namely, the provision relating to compensation for carriage of foreign mails, that relating to a 10-cent special postage stamp, and the provision authorizing the postmaster general to pay rent for third-class postoffices. The senate insisted on its amendments and a new conference was ordered.

Debate was resumed on the item increasing the appropriation for the New Orleans exposition and at its close the committee's amendment recommending an increase was agreed to—yeas 40, nays 16. Those voting in the negative were Aldrich, Cameron (Wis.), Chase, Dawes, Dolph, Edmunds, Frye, Hale, Harris, Harrison, Ingalls, Morrill, Platt, Sewell, Sherman and Wilson.

The remaining committee amendments were agreed to substantially as they came from the committee.

Dawes from the committee on appropriations reported the fortification bill with an amendment striking out the provision for machine guns. Placed on the calendar.

A motion to appropriate $10,000 for the purchase of Miss Ransom's portrait of General George H. Thomas was agreed to.

A motion to appropriate $1,000 to buy Mrs. Fassett's picture of the electoral commission was lost.

On motion of Miller (Cal.) an amendment was agreed to authorizing the president to bestow testimonials on officers and subjects of the Russian government who extended aid and comfort to survivors of the Jeannette and appropriating therefor $1,000; also $2000 to enable the president to send a representative to the jubilee of the statistical society of London.

A message from the house announced continued disagreement of that body on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. The senate further insisted on its amendments and the chair appointed a new committee of conference.

On motion of Allison an amendment was agreed to appropriating $30,000 for continuing the public building at Council Bluffs.

The senate retained the house provision for $25,000 for a penitentiary in Montana.

On motion of Plumb an amendment was agreed to appropriating $30,000 for a public building at Fort Scott, Kansas. The bill was then read the third time and passed with the amendments indicated.

Dawes submitted a conference report on the Indian bill agreed to. The report discloses continued disagreement, but owing to the lateness of the hour (on Tuesday) Dawes did not ask for further conference. Recess was taken until morning.

House.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Randall from the committee on appropriations reported back the naval appropriation bill with the senate amendments recommending concurrence in some and non-concurrence in others. The amendments were considered in the house as in committee of the whole.

A RETALIATORY RESOLUTION REJECTED.

When all amendments to the naval appropriation bill were disposed of Mills moved to suspend the rules and adopt the following resolution:

Resolved, That the committee appointed to arrange the inaugural ceremonies having declined to give to representatives in congress their proper place, we will decline to take any part in said ceremonies at the capitol.

This resolution, said Mr Mills, reflected the sentiments of a large number of members.

Hammond demanded a second, and the motion was seconded, 119 to 8.

Mills spoke in support of his resolution and inveighed against the action of the senate as being a deliberate slight on the house. He also wanted to see the inauguration, but he, as a representative of the people, was not going to be in the tail end with the bootblacks. The house owed it to its dignity and to the respect of the people it represented that it should not accept the inferior station which the senate assigned it.

Hammond felt that the house was about to do under passion a very unseemly thing. On the 4th of March a president of the United States was to be inaugurated. It was usual that the house of representatives should be present with the senate and other public officials to witness that great scene.

The motion to suspend the rules and adopt the resolution was lost, ayes 80, nays 86.

RECESS TAKEN.

Hutchins, Randall and Long were appointed conferrees on the naval appropriation bill.

Adams (New York) gave notice that at the [illegible] of the consideration of the election cases he would move to suspend the rules and pass the bankruptcy bill, and upon announcement of the vote immediately made a motion to adjourn, but the speaker had previously recognized Bennett to debate a contested election case and did not recognize the motion. Valentine, however, called the attention of the speaker to the fact that the resolution of the committee had not been read and demanded that it be read.

The speaker recognized the force of the objection and directed the clerk to read the resolution.

This having been done the speaker was besieged with motions to adjourn and recognized Adams to make the motion. The motion was lost—yeas 11, nays 1[illegible].

[illegible] to take a recess to 8, 9 and 10 o'clock were offered. At the suggestion of [illegible], who stated that the house would be compelled to sit late to-night [illegible] until to-morrow morning, the first named motion was agreed to and the house took a recess till 8.

EVENING SESSION.

This evening, when reading was resumed, [illegible] the committee amendment [illegible] $1,000,000 [illegible] 000, the amount [illegible] paid by the government for the Fort Brown reservation. The senate [illegible] a vote of [illegible] to [illegible] the committee amendment [illegible].

IN SESSION AT 2:30.

The house is still filibustering over the election [illegible]. A recess of thirty minutes has just been ordered.

During the recess the few members present proceeded to enjoy themselves, which they did by [illegible] lazily back in their seats, [illegible] and feet on desks and giving vent to their patriotic sentiments by bursting forth into song. "Dixie," "The Star Spangled Banner," "John Brown's Body," "Yankee Doodle" and "Hail Columbia" followed [illegible]. Becoming more sentimental, the [illegible] expressed their admiration for "The Old Folks at Home" and informed [illegible] that "There's a Land that is Fairer than Day." At [illegible] the house was again called [illegible].

CONGRESSIONAL NOTES.

AMENDED TREATY SUBMITTED TO THE SENATE

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Negotiations which have been in progress several weeks between Minister Foster and the Spanish minister in this city, have resulted in a supplementary treaty concerning trade between the United States and Cuba and Porto Rico, which was sent by the president to the senate this afternoon. The principal changes from the original treaty are a provision that the reduction of duty on cigars and tobacco shall be 20 per cent., and the reduction in the grade of sugar for free admission from No. 16 Dutch standard to No. 13 Dutch standard.

WILL MAKE NO FORMAL REPORT

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Representative Warner's committee, which has been investigating the workings of the pension office has determined, owing to the short time before adjournment of congress, to make no formal report other than to present evidence taken by the committee.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE MEETING

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The national democratic committee met to-day, with full attendance, and W. H. Barnum presiding. The meeting was mainly devoted to exchange of congratulations upon the success attending the work of the committee and discussion of the part they should take in the inauguration ceremonies. It was fully agreed that the members of the committee should witness the proceedings at the capitol and then take carriages and ride to the grand stand in front of the executive mansion and view the procession. Secretary Prince humorously remarked to the gentlemen present that it had been twenty-five years since the committee had met for the pleasant object which called them together to-day. The committee adjourned, subject to call of the chairman.

The executive committee held a preliminary meeting and approved bills for expenditures during the campaign.

SECRETARY TELLER'S TROUBLES.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Secretary Teller says there has been no unnecessary delay in the presentation of the papers called for by Senator Hill's resolution, and that this is one of the childish ways the senator has of throwing his spite at the head of the interior department.

Senators Hill, Walter, Van Wyck, Morgan, Jonas and Gibson, and Representatives Lewis, Cobb, Holman and Anderson, unite in a letter to Secretary Teller, protesting against the issue of patents to the New Orleans and Pacific Railway Company, as they are informed he intends doing. They request him to refer settlement of the matter to the forty-ninth congress and the incoming administration.

HENDRICKS VISITS THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Vice President-elect Hendricks was on the floor of the senate to-day, and senators, without regard to political affiliation, took the opportunity to pay their respects. After leaving the senate Hendricks went to the hall of the house, and a number of members greeted him. Afterward he went to the lobby on the rear of the hall, where he held an informal reception and met both democratic and republican representatives.

COURT-MARTIAL ORDERED

WASHINGTON, March 2.—A general court martial was ordered to-day for the trial of Medical Director Philip Wales, on a charge preferred by Secretary Chandler of neglect of duty in administration of the office of surgeon general of the navy and chief of the bureau of medicine and surgery, formerly held by him, by which neglect it is alleged voucher frauds in that bureau were made possible.

A NEW MOVE.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The state department has transmitted the postmaster-general's proposition from the British government looking to the negotiation of a treaty by the governments of the United States and Great Britain providing for the establishment of a parcel post system.

RESERVATIONS THROWN OPEN

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The president has issued an order throwing open to public settlement lands included in the old Winnebago and Sioux, Crow and Creek reservations in Dakota with the exception of certain townships and specified tracts.

THE FORFEITURE BILLS.

Washington Special 21st February.

The Oregon Central forfeiture has passed the house, but it had no real opposition. The Atlantic and Pacific forfeiture was agreed to in conference. The senate put on Morgan's amendment to refer the question to the courts and the house would not assent to it. Hence that bill is tied up and lost. The Texas Pacific forfeiture has passed both houses, and it is authoritatively stated that the house will concur in the senate amendments. The Oregon and California and the California and Oregon forfeiture bills have passed the house and are in the senate committee on public lands, where they will stay. They are of very little consequence. Only about thirty miles of the Oregon & California road and about 150 miles of the California & Oregon remain unfinished, and the unfinished portions are in a mountainous region where the land is of no value. A house bill forfeiting old grants made to railroads in Mississippi and Louisiana still remains in the senate committee without any prospect of being reported at this session. The house has not yet passed the Northern Pacific bill to forfeit about 35,000,000 acres of land granted to that road. The senate committee framed and reported a bill to forfeit the Northern Pacific lands also, but it is much less sweeping than the house bill. It only proposes to forfeit sections of granted lands opposite that portion of the road not completed. The senate committee decided not to report for forfeiture any lands lying opposite completed portions of any road, on the ground that such lands had been equitably earned, to say the least. The house Northern Pacific bill proposes to declare forfeited about five times as much land as the senate bill. But there is but a poor chance of either bill becoming a law at the hands of this congress.

ALKALI NOTES.

ALKALI, Feb. 28.—Alkali is quiet compared to last year. Here, as everywhere else the tendency to retrench and move cautiously is apparent, which to my mind is one of the surest signs of approaching "good times." There is a very large acreage in fall wheat in the country adjacent and tributary to Alkali. Good judges estimate three times as much as last year. There were but two car loads of wheat shipped from Alkali this wheat season, so I am informed. THE OREGONIAN'S statistician will at once figure that if there were two car loads shipped last year, and three times the acreage this year, Alkali will swell Oregon's wheat product just six car loads. Right here is where the statistician will get left, for last year was very dry and a large emigration took the wheat raised for seed. With a favorable season this point will be one of the heaviest for shipping on the railroad.

The large number of sheep pelts coming to town show that the mortality has been quite large amongst the flocks. Men here whose business it is to keep themselves informed estimate the loss in this vicinity at 10 per cent. If these figures are correct they have reason to congratulate themselves.

Alkali's position in regard to the surrounding country is such that it will always be a good town, and, being a county-seat, of course has advanced one peg more towards a metropolitan position. Who are to get the offices is the great riddle. I mean, of course, the new county offices. If this county has the regulation number there will be some disappointed gentlemen who wish to serve their country for the country's good.

It is now stated that Henry M. Stanley, the great African explorer, wears a swallow-tail coat. We can now understand why he was able to travel among the cannibals for years without being roasted and eaten. No man looks juicy in a swallow-tail coat. It makes him appear old and tough.—Bloomington Through Mail.

Mr John N. Walker, 280 N. Eutaw St., Baltimore, Maryland, writes: I suffered greatly for more than a week with a severe cold, hacking cough, hoarseness and sore throat. A few doses of Red Star Cough Cure relieved me almost immediately. No bad effects.

THE EAST.

Cleveland Starts to the National Capital.

BLAINE'S ONLY SISTER DYING

A Scheme to Bring General Grant to the Pacific Coast—Friends Tender him a Large Vineyard in California.

ALBANY, March 2.—President-elect Cleveland, Daniel Manning and Colonel Lamont, and their families left here in a special train on the West Shore railroad at 6:40 P. M. for Jersey City, on the way to Washington.

At 6:25 four carriages drove to the Church street siding of the West Shore railroad depot, half a mile below the regular passenger station. In the first carriage were Mr Cleveland, his two sisters (Mrs Hoyt and Miss Cleveland) and his niece, Miss Hastings, in the second were Rev. L. Cleveland, brother of the president-elect, wife and child, in the third were Mr and Mrs. Manning, in the fourth Mr and Mrs Lamont and two children. The party waited fifteen minutes before the special train was ready. The train consisted of an engine, baggage car and two sleepers. It left sharp at 6:45. The only persons present were Dr Ward, Colonel F. T. Chamberlain, Henry Teneyck, one policeman and several small boys. Mr Cleveland was in excellent spirits. Mr Manning looked cheerful and Mr Lamont was bright and busy getting things in order on the train and looking after a pile of baggage. The train slipped off quietly without a toot or bell, and will stop only for water between here and Washington, where it is expected to arrive at 6 A. M.

ON THE PENNSYLVANIA ROAD

JERSEY CITY, N. J., March 3.—Cleveland and party arrived at Marion, junction of the West Shore and Pennsylvania roads at 11:50 last night. Locomotive No. 105, with a crew, was in waiting, the special train was switched on the Pennsylvania tracks without delay, the engine was coupled on, and at four minutes past midnight started for Washington. No one was in waiting at Marion. It was supposed Mr Cleveland would go to the Jersey City depot, where a large crowd had gathered.

THE RUSH TO WASHINGTON

PITTSBURG, March 2.—Travel to Washington through this city to-day is unprecedented. At Union street the throng was so great passengers on trains from the west were unable to get to the restaurant, while sleeping car accommodations are at a premium. To-day an express carrying the National guard left in five sections, and extra trains are leaving nearly every hour, both over the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore and Ohio roads.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS

HOW A BANK WAS LIBELED.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Bank Examiner Scriba completed his examination of the United States National bank Saturday. He said afterward that he found the bank in excellent condition, with a clean surplus of $100,000. He pronounced the reports recently circulated about it the work of defamers, who ought to be made to suffer for their unjustifiable attacks. "If there is no legal redress," he said, "there is a personal one, and if I were in the place of the president of the bank I would use one if I could not get satisfaction from the other. I am a government officer, but on that account I am no less an American citizen and man. I say distinctly that the author of the rumors about the bank should be punished severely either at law or some other way."

Mr Murray, president of the United States bank, returned home from a western trip yesterday, and is this morning at the bank. He will immediately prosecute Charles D. Keep, editor of the Wall Street Daily News, for libel.

A DYNAMITE EXPLOSION CREATES A PANIC

NEWCASTLE, Pa., March 2.—Unknown parties made attempt last night to blow up Rainey's dam on Neshannock creek, with dynamite. The dam has long caused great anxiety, because of ice gorging on it and flooding the town. The concussion shook every house a mile around, shattering windows, breaking crockery and creating consternation among the occupants. In the churches evening services were being held, and the congregations becoming panic stricken, rushed for the doors. Women screamed and fainted, and a number of persons in the Salvation Army hall were trampled and injured in the endeavor to get out of the building. The attempt to destroy the dam was a failure, while the damage to private property was considerable.

COLONY MENACED BY COWBOYS

DALLAS, Texas, March 2.—Information is received here to-day, by a railroad man, that cowboys 200 strong, had organized with a view of raiding and looting a Catholic German colony of Marshfield, Martin county, in the Panhandle district. It was reported they proposed to make a raid to-day. It is known that residents of the town have been under arms for several days. About two weeks ago a party of drunken cowboys visited the town and attempted to "clean the place out," but were driven away and one of their number killed by the sheriff. The raid is for the purpose of wreaking vengeance on the inhabitants. Some apprehension is felt, should the convent located there fall in the hands of ruthless cowboys.

BLAINE'S ONLY SISTER DYING

BALTIMORE, March 2.—Mrs Eliza Blaine Walker, who has been ill for some time at a boarding house in this city, is thought to be dying. Yesterday her brothers in Washington telegraphed for ex-Secretary Blaine, who, with his daughter Margaret and brother, Robert G. Blaine, came to Baltimore and spent the afternoon with Mrs. Walker. Mrs. Walker is the wife of R. C. Walker, a retired army officer, with two daughters, Mrs D. W. Fisk of Montana and Mrs. O. J. Salisbury of Salt Lake City, who are in constant attendance upon their afflicted mother. Mrs Walker is the only sister of ex-Secretary Blaine.

CALIFORNIA

A SCHEME TO BRING GRANT TO THE COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—General Grant's illness has brought to light a project which has been under consideration here for several months. It is to bring the general and all his family to California to live. The idea was conceived by General Francis Darr, formerly of New York, now a resident of this city. Darr served during the war on the staff of D. C. Buell. He has since then, notwithstanding that he differs from Grant in politics, been one of the general's warmest friends. His scheme, in which several of our most prominent citizens heartily co-operate, is to buy a large bearing vineyard, having a residence and other necessary buildings, and tender the entire property to Grant as a loan. It would be deeded to Mrs. Grant. The vineyard will be under the direction of a skilled viticulturist. After deducting from the product a sum sufficient to cover all expenses of Grant's household, the balance would be applied to liquidation of the mortgage. Several large properties have been visited, so as to select the most suitable. The Central Pacific railroad have tendered special cars to a party to go to New York, to bring the general with his family and physicians. All the expenses of the party would be paid. Colonel Jackson, proprietor of the Evening Post, has placed his residence at Napa soda springs at the disposition of Grant and party. While the necessary formalities in respect to the selection and transfer of the vineyard were being completed, Grant was made acquainted with the scheme, about three months ago, and was requested to come out and see before declining. A dispatch was, however, received from Grant last night, stating it would be impossible to make the trip at present.

ALL A MISTAKE.

Two Detectives Arrested for Hanging around Cleveland's Home.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 2.—Two men, who appeared to be acting conspicuously in the neighborhood of the Towner mansion, where Cleveland lives, were arrested this morning at 11 o'clock by Detectives Dwyer and Morris and the chief of police. They were taken to the police station, where they were identified by Dwight and Lawrence as two detectives named Thomas Craig and Theodore Walter, employed by a private agency at 304 Broadway, New York. They refused to tell their business to the chief of police and referred to Inspector Byrnes to say what it was. They were taken before a magistrate and committed for further hearing. The latest supposition is that they are detectives employed by friends of Cleveland, without his knowledge, to protect him from threats of violence that have been made from time to time.

After the detectives were committed for hearing a dispatch was received by Chief Willard, signed Inspector Byrnes, which read "Those men are all right. Let them go." They were then set at liberty. Inspector Byrnes arrived on the 2:40 P. M. train. He said that while he knew the men to be all right he could not have signed the dispatch, as he left New York at 10:30 A. M., in company with Colonel Murphy, while the men were not arrested till 11 o'clock. Some one in the office may have signed it. It transpires that the detectives have been here twenty four days, hunting up a defaulter, and were a week on his tracks in the neighborhood of the Cleveland house.

THE PRIZE RING.

DESPERATE ENCOUNTER AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, March 2.—Six thousand persons were in Battery D armory to-night, and 1000 more were turned away, the occasion being a pugilistic entertainment. After the appearance of several amateurs Tom Chandler and Frank Glover contested for a sporting journal medal for the championship heavy weight of Illinois, five rounds, Queensbury rules, medium gloves. It was a wicked encounter. Chandler knocked Glover senseless for fifteen seconds in the second round, but as the round expired before the end of ten seconds it was not a knock out. In the third round Chandler forced the fighting for a time, and pounded and cut Glover's face fearfully. Glover, however, made a most remarkable rally, and in the fourth round knocked Chandler senseless for thirty seconds, winning the fight. It was thought for a time that Chandler was dead. The final contest was between Jack Burk of Ireland and Alf Greenfield of England, five rounds, Queensbury rules, small gloves. It was a scientific but cautious contest, in which Burk showed superior ability, both in stopping blows and hitting, and was awarded the contest at the end of five rounds. There were no knock downs.

Negotiations between Russia and England respecting the Russo-Afghan frontier are said to have reached a very delicate stage. Melassar, Russian commissioner, has urged such sweeping demands that England cannot accept anything approaching them, and the complete collapse of the delimitation project, and the early advance of Russian troops toward Herat, are expected.

Official advices state that the sortie by the garrison at Kassala occurred the 2d of February.

ENGLAND.

IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

LONDON, March 2.—In the house of commons this evening Thomas Sexton, home rule member for Sligo, gave notice that to-morrow he would call the attention of the house to the imminent danger menacing the rights of members of the house to speak and vote, owing to the recent action of Speaker Peele in the O'Brien episode.

Henry Labouchere, radical, moved the resolution that he gave notice of last Friday "that the house of commons regrets that the militia has been embodied, because it indicated a resolution on the part of her majesty's government to interfere in the Soudan by force of arms." He followed up the introduction of this motion by a vigorous denunciation of the course the government was pursuing at the present time. The motion was lost by a vote of 149 to 119.

Fitzmaurice, undersecretary for the foreign department, said the sortie and defeat of the Kassala garrison by El Mahdi's Arabs occurred on the 2d of February. He explained the difficulty of relieving this garrison by saying it was so far inland, being 280 miles from Suakem and 293 miles from Massowah on the Red sea, that relief could be afforded by friendly tribes only.

Marquis Hartington said the question of continuing the present policy of the government in the Soudan had been decided by last week's debate and last Friday's vote. He defended the sending of the guards, who, he said, were expected to be employed in war whenever serious operations were needed. It was not intended to call out the reserves, he said, just yet, "but the government will not hesitate to do so," the war secretary added, "if it should become necessary." In regard to colonial offers of military assistance the secretary said the government had not declined any of them, but was now communicating with the colonies for the purpose of ascertaining in full the nature of the assistance which the colonies could render.

The house of commons agreed to the queen's messages, and then considered the redistribution of seats bill. The house finally adjourned to allow Courtney to speak on the proportional representation of minorities.

EXAMINATION OF ALLEGED DYNAMITERS.

LONDON, March 2.—The examination of Cunningham and Burton was continued to-day. Witnesses introduced testified that Burton was owner of the bag containing ten pounds of dynamite discovered in the parcel room of the Charing Cross railway station shortly after the explosion in Victoria station a year ago. Poland, solicitor of the treasury, stated that the government would show that Burton was connected with the fenian conspiracy in the United States. The solicitor then gave details of the plot to explode London bridge, parliament house and the tower, saying that he would show that Burton was connected in all the plots.

Continuing, Poland said the government would show that Burton arrived at Southampton the 20th of February, 1884. At Southampton he bought the portmanteau found at the Charing Cross station, containing dynamite. This portmanteau was similar to one found at Paddington station, which also contained dynamite. The plan had been to blow up the four principal railway stations in London. The dynamite was packed in the portmanteaus with American clock works, set to strike detonations at a certain hour, and one portmanteau so charged was to be left at each of the four doomed stations.

MARK LANE REVIEW

LONDON, March 2.—The Mark Lane Express in review of the British grain trade during the past week, says: "Autumn sown wheats present an unusually favorable appearance. Trade has been indescribably dull with prices in favor of buyers. Sales of English wheat during the past week were 54,603 quarters, at 32s, against 61,954 quarters, at 7s 3d during the corresponding week last year. Flour and barley continue to decline. Foreign wheats are virtually unsalable. Trade doing is the smallest imaginable, though prices are quotably unchanged. Business in cargoes off coast has been trifling. Eight cargoes arrived, three cargoes were withdrawn, one was sold and eight remained, six of which are American. For cargoes forward values are nominal and sellers' quotations are slightly lower. At to-day's market wheat was quoted unchanged. There was nothing doing in native sorts. Flour is 6d cheaper, foreign brands are slow of sale.

ENGLAND'S ULTIMATUM.

LONDON, March 2.—Granville, British secretary for foreign affairs, to-day sent a long and very important dispatch by telegraph to Degiers, Russian foreign minister, regarding occupation by Russian troops of points on the Afghan frontier. The language is very firm and almost equivalent to a formal ultimatum. It plainly intimates that Great Britain is resolved to protect at all hazards strategic points in Afghanistan. Russia is also warned that Great Britain will under no circumstances entertain the question of cession of any portion of the territory belonging to her ally, the ameer of Afghanistan. A copy of this dispatch was sent to Dufferin, viceroy of India, who is instructed to reassure the ameer of Afghanistan of England's continued friendliness.

GERMANY

BISMARCK SPEAKS IN THE REICHSTAG.

BERLIN, March 2.—In the debate on the proposed credits for Cameroons in the reichstag, Bismarck said the work of colonization would be impossible if the government is obliged to force every demand from the reichstag. It was imperative, he said, that the country should provide money. The federal government should ascertain, positively, the views of the people, if necessary by general elections. Hitherto the attitude of the reichstag had only strengthened foreign opposition to German colonization. "It is certain," continued Bismarck, "that English communications with Germany upon the subject assumed a sharper tone after debates in the reichstag. Our private statements to the British ambassador were produced officially—a sign that England is seriously angered."

A TREASON TRIAL.

CONFUSION IN THE COUNCIL.

DUBLIN, March 2.—In the municipal council Sir George Owens gave notice that he would move for the appointment of a commission to frame an address of welcome to the prince of Wales on his arrival in Ireland. Clancy, at this, jumped up and desired to give notice that he would move that no such committee be appointed. Great excitement ensued, and several conservatives were shouted down in attempts to ask the lord mayor if the disloyal remarks attributed to him in a report of one of his speeches had been correctly reported.

At the meeting of the municipal council to-day Presiding Officer May gave notice that at the next meeting of the council he would move that the monument to King George I., in the Mansion house grounds, be removed to the lumber yard.

RAILROAD NOTES.

VANDERBILT MAKES A BIG PURCHASE.

CHICAGO, March 2.—The Times will publish to-morrow an interview with an eastern railway manager, who is not named, but who is vouched for as being in a position to know whereof he speaks, to the effect that a few days ago a leading banking house in New York became cramped for funds and was forced to sell $27,000,000 in West Shore and Buffalo railway bonds, for which it paid $20,000,000. Then W. H. Vanderbilt took the entire lot, paying $9,000,000. The entire issue of first mortgage bonds of this road was $50,000,000. Vanderbilt has thus secured a controlling interest, and it is asserted will be operating that road within thirty days, thus putting a stop to the fierce rivalry which the New York Central and the West Shore have waged.

Another Man Who Ought to be Considered.

Tacoma Ledger.

Dr. Ostrander of Olympia, seeks the appointment of governor of this territory at the hands of Mr Cleveland. The doctor invested largely in copperhead bonds during the war, whose coupons consisted in fine words for the confederacy and lamentations over a rousing victory for the Union, and he now thinks the times are propitious for liquidating his claim against the government for being protected against himself by loyal people. Cleveland will hardly appoint the doctor, but he will probably do the next best thing for the doctor's consolation, in sending one of the many southern generals, whom the doctor formerly swore by, to act as governor, and reside within a few blocks of the congenial medico's residence.

OPENINGS EAST OF THE MOUNTAINS.

There are half a dozen thriving new towns in the fertile valleys of eastern Oregon and southern Idaho, among them Ontario, Caldwell, Shoshone and Hailey. Among them can be found right now superb locations for one bank, two machine shops, three flouring mills, one furniture store, one hotel, two saddlery stores, one tannery, one planing mill, and any number of farms to be taken up. The lands are as good as any in the world, producing anything from peaches to the hardiest grains. This is about the last chance to make a move to an attractive new country. Patton & McGee, 16 New Market block, Portland, will supply all needed information.

Dr. Henley's Celery Beef and Iron will restore lost vitality.

The Oregonian.

TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 3, 1885.

SECTIONAL POLITICS.

A democratic paper of Washington territory, the Olympia Standard, finding fault with THE OREGONIAN'S views about the political status of the south, undertakes to refute them by printing some extracts from a southern paper which declares "that it ought not to be impossible for the American people to see that uncompromising sectional conflicts in great governmental measures are unworthy of a free country and inimical not only to the general welfare, but to that good feeling and fraternity which should be found at the heart of a great republic." This is exactly the opinion of THE OREGONIAN. But THE OREGONIAN cannot shut its eyes to the fact that the sectional conflict, begun by the south many years ago, is still continued by the south, and is likely to be continued by it for a further and indefinite period. The south is still the same solid political body that it has been for thirty years. It is a solid sectional organization, the same that the republican party has ever combatted, and it promises to remain so. Only one political party has ever been permitted to exist within its borders since this sectional conflict started; and that political party is the one that supported slavery, and, while its southern section was fighting for dissolution of the Union, its northern section favored the general object by professing to be a peace party actuated by a profound horror of war, a detestation of the draft and opposition to the legal tender acts and high taxes. The way to stop the "sectional conflict" is to induce the south to abandon it. It was started by the south, has been pursued by the south, and is continued by the south. The south to-day is as solidly united on the traditions and reminiscences of the struggle as it was united in earlier days on the actual issues of it. Hence there is no party division in the south as there is in the north. Hence every electoral vote of the sixteen states is counted always one way and always in advance, and elections in most of those states are a mere farce. Hence every senator and nearly every representative from those states belong to the one party of southern sectionalism. These are the conditions that perpetuate the sectional conflict, and that conflict will never cease so long as the south is organized, politically, as it is now and as it has been during the last thirty years.

These simple facts were, however, lost sight of last year by certain persons who hitherto have acted with the republican party; and the result was the November defeat. The fact is that for many years past there has been a class of republicans who have been marvelously merciful to their opponents and meanly unjust to their friends. As a forcible writer expresses it, "they have been constant apologists for the natural outgrowth of the principles which they maintained in former days they have sought forgiveness from enemies as if their party had been the aggressor; they have not only condoned the wrong of the past, but have striven valorously to forget that there was ever any right. Smitten upon one cheek they have not only turned the other, but have begged the honor of another fiont." Under the guidance of men like these the republican party "has grown so tender of the wishes and feelings of its enemies, and so regardless of the rights and sentiments of its friends; it has so prided itself upon applying the touchstone of judgment with impartiality; it has been so long accustomed to account itself responsible for the welfare of the nation rather than of its own ascendency; it has so long deprecated its own excellencies and magnified the virtues of its opponents that it has for a time lost the power of concentrated purpose and steadily unrelenting assault." Hence it failed in the late election. But the sectional south has not for one moment forgotten the purpose that has so long animated it. It has never been regardful of the feelings and wishes of enemies; it has never questioned the wisdom or rectitude of its own course; southern men have reversed the northern habit of being generous always to opponents and savagely intolerant of each other, and their rancor is directed, not as in the north against those who have with them upheld common principles and a common cause, but against those who oppose them, and in particular against those southern men who show any disposition to change their party affiliations.

The whole case was stated exactly by Blaine's Augusta speech, but it came too late. Delivered before the election, it would have awakened the country and carried the election. Delivered after the election, it was nothing but the signal of a lost opportunity. The southern sectionalism which it exposed and denounced, aided by a class of men in the north who had become apologists of their own former course in opposition to this sectionalism, had done its work. But it is still in order to remark that the sectional conflict is not yet over, nor will it be till the south abandons it.

THE HOULT LAW.

The law regulating railroads, enacted by the legislature, comes into legal effect on the 22d of May, but there is some doubt if it will ever practically control the business of transportation, excepting in a few particulars. One company, the Oregon Pacific, whose line connecting the Willamette valley with Yaquina bay is just now about to be opened for traffic, declares that it will pay no regard whatever to the law, not in a spirit of rebellion against the authority of the state, but because it would practically be impossible to conduct a railroad under the prescribed provisions. No indication of their plans has been given by the O. R. & N. Co. or by the O. & C., unless the casual remark by the manager of the former, that he did not see his way clear to obey regulations which he, nor any officer of his company, nor their attorneys were able to comprehend, may be taken to mean something.

There has been sad bungling in this matter of railroad control which it was so important to start right. The bill presented by Mr. Hoult, and which has taken his name, was not prepared by him but by a demagogue entirely without practical railroad experience (other than that gained while riding on passes on anti-monopoly missions) and whose main idea seems to have been to furnish political capital for himself and other professed anti-monopolists. The whole motive of the measure as originally drawn seems to have been to "cinch the railroads" without regard to fair or even honest dealing. If the law were strictly enforced it would plunge our incomplete and bankrupt roads into deeper distress and absolutely prohibit the transportation of produce from remote districts. It would ruin the railroads and postpone all progress in those sections of the country not conveniently near in miles to market. It is in a sense fortunate, that a measure so ignorantly designed, is so weighted with physical impossibilities, that it could come to nothing even if the state authorities and the railroad companies were to combine in the effort to put its provisions into effect.

It is well known that THE OREGONIAN is not the champion of the railroads. Indeed its opinions and its expression of them are often in opposition to the claims of railroad proprietors and to the methods of railroad management, but it tries to be fair. It sees in the Hoult law a premature, ignorant and vicious effort to burden railroads only half built and already staggering under financial difficulties, and it cannot regret that halting demagogery has overleapt itself. The law, while only partially effective as to practical railroad management, has this merit, namely, it asserts the authority of the state over the business of transportation within the state. This authority should be kept in mind. It was put forth as a party doctrine by the last state republican convention, and it has been decided everywhere to be sound in law.

PORTLAND TO ASTORIA.

Trial Trip of the Telephone and Incidents by the Way, with a few Astoria Notes.

So much interest has been manifested in the new boat named after that wonderful instrument, constructed to convey the sound of voices from point to point, that some 250 people took advantage of the maiden trip of this craft, principally from curiosity to see what she was capable of doing in the way of speed. Among this number were Samuel Loewenstein, president of the Oregon Furniture Manufacturing company, who, while interested from the fact of having furnished a liberal share to the furnishings, was disposed to get away from the cares of business for a time at least; Geo. T. Myers, Thos. Guinean of the St. Charles, Frank C. Davis of the Merchant, Frank P. Manciet of the St. George, Vin Cook, Jos. Paquet, F. M. Thayer and wife of the News, W. Mauzey, Captain Lombard, Edlstone of the O. R. & N. Co., A. E. Raleigh, R. C. Smith, Wm. B. Jones, L. C. Potter, G. W. Flinock and wife, all of Portland; Sam A. Miles and Jas. Muckle, of St. Helens, D. W. Bush, of Mount Coffin; Dean Blanchard, of Rainier; A. D. Barne, Louis Solomon and J. C. West of Cathlamet; M. Stock, of Corvallis; Ben. S. Heitscher and J. H. Swartwout, of San Francisco; Lt. J. H. Tressing, of Milwaukie; A. W. Berry, P. J. Meaney, John C. Rice, Dan Welner, Carl Adler, J. H. Johnson, D. W. Zeller, F. E. Hewett, Captain H. B. Parker, J. J. Barclay, Herman Prael, Wm. Howe and S. B. Smith of Astoria, and several ladies.

Heretofore the Wide West, Bonita and Fleetwood have been regarded as the fastest boats on the route, and it remained to be seen what the new craft could do to place herself on record. At seven minutes past 9 her prow was headed down stream, a large crowd of spectators watching her departure. Along the city front were groups of people gathered, the most interested being steamboat men. At St. Johns the first landing was made, the running time being twenty eight minutes. The Columbia was entered in a run of forty-six minutes, the first hour being completed at Reeder's Landing, a distance of about seventeen miles. In this distance ten minutes were lost in the landings and slacking up for some slight repairs. St. Helens was reached at 10:39, Columbia City at 11 o'clock, Kalama at 11:33, Rainier at 12:05, Oak Point at 1, and Eagle Cliff twelve minutes later. Cathlamet was approached by the slough at 2 o'clock, and at Skamokowa cheers were given by the people at the dock for the new visitor, this point having been made at 2:21. From Skamokawa a stiff breeze was encountered, which became stronger as the journey drew to a close. Seventeen minutes later Fisherton was reached, and at 3 o'clock at Pillar Rock the last landing was made prior to tying up at Astoria. An Indian salute of several shots greeted the boat as she passed Elliot's, and several "toots" from the boat's whistle was the response. At 4:08 Tongue Point was passed. It was Captain Scott's intention to go out of the usual course and make a dash by the "city by the sea" to give the inhabitants a good look at the new addition to the marine service but the wind was increasing in velocity with every moment until it seemed like a hurricane, and the captain saw at a glance the necessity of making an immediate landing, and accordingly, with all colors flying, directed her for the C. T. Co's dock amid shouts from the assembled hundreds, who filled every available place along the city front. At eight minutes to 4 the boat's line was cast to the man in waiting, and the instant the gang plank was safely placed the people who had been standing in the face of the sudden squall and severe rain storm, which lasted scarce fifteen minutes, rushed aboard to make an examination. It seemed that all Clatsop county had turned out to bid welcome.

The greetings were equally as cordial all along the Washington shore (the boats of this company by the way, only make landings on the north side of the river) which must certainly have been gratifying to the owners. The distance was made in six hours and forty-five minutes, and allowing for stoppages of seventy-four minutes at twenty landings the actual running time was therefore five hours and thirty-one minutes. Before starting Captain Scott stated that he did not expect to make the best time this trip, owing to certain contingencies which lay principally with the machinery and adjuncts, but which would be remedied where found necessary, and at some future time be prepared to show her running qualities to better advantage. In view of all the circumstances she can afford to carry the horns presented by Mr. W. Mauzey, and which she proudly carried on the texas. The Telephone, which is to succeed the Fleetwood (that boat having done good service for the company, and which will be thoroughly repaired for future use) was built at a cost of about $40,000, for the Columbia Transportation Company. Her officers are: U. B. Scott, captain and president; C. R. Burnard, purser; W. H. Whitcomb, pilot; Kane Olney, mate; J. N. Scott, engineer; C. F. Hickling, steward, and a full crew in each department. E. A. Seely, formerly of the Fleetwood will be agent at Portland. The hull and upper works were built by Paquet & Smith, who have placed on the Willamette, Columbia and other waters various boats, this, the one on the stocks for Pope & Winch, and another for the upper country being their last samples of workmanship. The hull is Oregon fir, the stem being oak, air trusses extend from the forward portion to stern which are braced and bolted. The upper works are of Oregon cedar thoroughly braced with hog chains and cross beams to withstand the strain due to the great motive power of her paddle wheel of twenty-four feet diameter, propelled by machinery to be hereafter described. Her length is 70 feet, 28-foot beam, depth of hold 7 feet. The lines are truly a model and must be seen to be fully appreciated. The steering gear is John Gates' patent, now in general use on those waters and in California, at New Orleans and elsewhere. It works like a charm, and though somewhat new to Captains Scott and Whitcomb, with a little practice will be as a toy in their hands. The iron rudders, an invention of Captain Scott, are calculated to avoid possibility of injury from drifts, and be even more serviceable, it is claimed, than any used. She has two new condensing engines, cylinders 22 inches in diameter and 8-foot stroke. The boiler is 32½ feet long and 4½ feet in diameter. An allowance of 140 pounds steam is given her by the inspectors, but on this run to Astoria she carried not higher than 120 pounds. The machinery was made at the Willamette iron works. The steam pipes and boilers are covered with the Salamander Felting Company's asbestos covering, the work being done by their local agent, Mr. J. Maliff, south west corner Oak and First streets, Portland. This preparation is now almost universally used, being an indestructible nonconductor. The saving of 25 per cent. in fuel by its use is worthy of consideration. An improvement has been made by covering the rough asbestos with canvas finish and painting the same.

She is provided with 315 cork life preservers, which, in addition to the pattens, canvass for the decks, etc., was furnished by W. C. Noon & Co., the sail, tent and bag manufacturers in this city. Other precautions, in the way of hose, fire buckets, pumps, life boats, etc., are at hand for prompt use. Her gross tonnage is 478.27.

Her cabins are models of neatness; no grand display, but simple and plain with a fair allowance of finish, sensible but not gaudy. The floor and rooms are carpeted with body brussels, and tapestry turcoman curtains separating the ladies' parlor from the dining hall and the latter from the smoking hall. The seating arrangements of the ladies' hall consist principally of patent opera chairs (drom) with seats and backs in cherry, besides patent rockers and easy chairs, the latter upholstered in leather. A mirror of fine finish ornaments the rear of the cabin, and beneath it stands a McCammon piano from the house of J. H. Robbins & Son. The officers of the company have a thorough appreciation of the qualities of this instrument, when it is ascertained that two members possess them at their homes. There was no disposition on the part of the ladies last Sunday to show what was really in the McCammon, but those who travel during week days will be sure to hear what purity of tone can be produced upon it by experienced musicians. The floor of the smoking room is laid with ash and walnut. The furniture consists of opera chairs (similar to those in the ladies' parlor), arm chairs with double cane seat and card tables. The dining hall is provided with ash extension tables and chairs painted in white. Three chandeliers supply the dinning room and the heating is furnished by steam radiators. In addition to the chandeliers mentioned, Messrs. Olds & Summers furnish the glass, queensware and Rogers' silverware, which were for the first time put to good use in connection with the dining arrangements. Other necessary crockery and glassware came from the same house. There are twenty-three staterooms which, though not large, are certainly most comfortably furnished with spring beds, hair mattresses and bedding—the blankets being (like almost every other article necessary to place the boat in complete order) home productions, the Ashland and Browns, the mills performing that service. The "Texas" is arranged for the accommodation of the officers, the forward room, occupied by the captain, whose comfort is considered by the introduction of an ash bedstead with good bedding. The furniture, carpets, mirrors, curtains, we may here state, came from a local institution, the Oregon Furniture Company. The dining, stoves and ranges came from Goldsmith & Loewenberg; John Barrett did the plumbing and work pertaining thereto; W. P. Berger, with the assistance of Morse and Miner, did the painting and ornamental and sign work. Thompson, DeHart & Co. furnished the hardware, which, though it makes no show in the general summing up, still it is absolutely necessary to put bolts, nails and hardware in a boat, and there is all that is required judging from the staunch manner of building. There is no disposition to put on a lot of fancy work for effect, but the main idea was to produce a strongly constructed boat, combining comfort and speed, and the Columbia Transportation Company possesses in the Telephone all these requirements.

The trip to Portland was void of special interest, no calculations were made for fast time owing to causes heretofore mentioned. At the start the S. G. Reed was passed in sight of the city and before Cathlamet was reached she was not visible to the Telephone's passengers. At twenty-one minutes past 2 the last traveler was at the dock, foot of Morrison street, having made the trip, less time lost at sixteen landings, in a few minutes over seven hours.

For a few days the Fleetwood will resume trips on the route, in order to give the machinists time to correct defects in the machinery of the new boat, which will be necessarily laid up.

INCIDENTS AND OTHERWISE.

John Bonser, a man in his 80th year, who hewed the oak from which the stem of the boat was made, was out on crutches at Reeder's landing to greet the splendid vessel which grew from his work—the last, it may be said, done toward putting her together.

Astoria presented anything but a cheerful aspect, due to the [illegible] which [illegible] necessary to go here and there after dark [illegible] people and accordingly [illegible] [illegible] the glare of lights shed from the many saloons were the only means of guiding the steps of pedestrians.

Business is fearfully dull, with a poor prospect of improvement, as the cannery men, upon whom Astorians depend so much, are very despondent. About one-half of the canneries will not resume operations this year it is thought. Captain Flavel and Colonel Taylor are finishing their elegant residences on the hillsides, and these with the already completed upper district school house, indicate that the town people are satisfied with the future of the place. Captain H. B. Parker has made some improvements in the Parker house, and looks forward to the usual rush of tourists in the summer.

The citizens complain bitterly of the early blasts from the whistles of the outgoing steamers, and travelers who take their night's rest on the boats sympathize with them in their sufferings. The custom should be abolished, if not by common consent, then by municipal action. P.

DIED.

In this city, at 12:30, March 2, Laura E., daughter of Joseph and Emily Doherty, aged 19 years, 1 months and 24 days.

Funeral Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, from the St. Lawrence church, Third and Sherman.

Sister, thou wast mild and lovely,
Gentle as the summer breeze,
Pleasant as the air of evening
When it floats among the trees.

Peaceful be thy silent slumber,
Peaceful in thy grave so low;
Thou no more shall join our number
Thou no more our songs shall know.

Dearest sister, thou has left us,
And thy loss we deeply feel;
But 'tis God that has bereft us;
He can all our sorrows heal.

Yet again we hope to meet thee,
When the day of life is fled;
And in heaven we hope to greet thee,
Where no farewell tear is shed.

Nevont, Mrs. Schacht (late from the Conservatory of Music, Hamburg) and by Mr. Augustein. Tickets 50 cents each, may be had of members and at D. W. Prentice's music store.

THE STAGE

THE CASINO.—"Giroflé-Girofla" was presented last night before the customary big first night house. The individual music throughout was well sung and all the choruses were excellent. Miss Winston has become so identified here in male roles that few of her army of admirers enjoy seeing her in female attire. The eye as well as the ear must be pleased, and the contrast in stature between Miss Winston and Miss King, who was charming as Marasquin, was too marked. Mr. Blair found in Mourzouk a part which fitted him well and did well with it. The opera went with a snap and showed careful preparation.

PERSONAL

Judge C. Lancaster of Vancouver is at the Esmond.

Dr. A. S. Nichols was able to visit his office yesterday for the first time since his recent severe illness. He is still very weak.

R. G. Whitehouse was at his desk in the water company's office yesterday, looking a little worse for wear after his attack of neuralgia in the head. Five days and nights without a wink of sleep and suffering intense pain is enough to take the starch out of anyone.

Mrs. Carolina Griffith, daughter of L. D. Brown of the St. Charles, and wife of Arthur Donaldson Griffith who died a short time ago, goes to England this week on a visit to her husband's parents and immediate relatives. Mr. Griffith was a nephew of Lord Griffith of Bevere court, near London.

FROM CHIEF MORGAN.

To the Business Men of Portland—GENTLEMEN: After having witnessed a variety of exhibitions made from time to time by representatives of different Hand Grenades and Hand Extinguishers I am of the opinion that the Harden Star Grenade is by far the most powerful extinguisher presented. Its execution is simply wonderful and far beyond my expectation. I believe their general adoption for business and residence use would materially lessen the number of disastrous fires and save the citizens thousands of dollars annually. Yours truly,

H. MORGAN,
Chief Fire Department.

ANOTHER HOLLADAY SUIT.—A suit in equity was commenced in the state circuit court yesterday by the Pottier and Stymus Manufacturing Company of New York against Ben and Joe Holladay to recover the sum of $[illegible], the plaintiff in a judgment obtained in this court against Ben Holladay December 22, 1883. The suit was commenced against Ben in the state circuit court here last November to recover the above named sum, which was a balance due on household stuff and furniture furnished him by plaintiff, and a judgment was rendered in favor of plaintiff. An execution was issued to the sheriff of this county, which was returned unsatisfied. Executions were then issued to the sheriffs of Clatsop, Polk and Washington counties, all of which were returned in the same unsatisfied condition. Now plaintiff states that Ben Holladay has not any property in the state which is held in his own name, and that he is unable to pay this judgment except by property owned by him and held by Joe Holladay. Plaintiff then recites all the property formerly owned in this state by Ben, and which has been transferred to Joe, and alleges that the property was transferred by Ben and received by Joe to vest a legal title thereto in Joe so that the same could not be attached or taken upon legal process by creditors of Ben. And plaintiff prays that it may be adjudged entitled to receive the full amount of its judgment against Ben Holladay; that the said conveyances of property to Joe Holladay may be adjudged fraudulent and void as against this plaintiff and that Joe may be decreed to hold the same in trust for the plaintiff and other creditors of Ben; that Joe Holladay be compelled to account for rents, profits, etc., accrued from said property and that so much of said property as may be necessary to satisfy the demand of plaintiff may be sold on execution or other process of the court, and that Joe Holladay be compelled to execute proper conveyances thereof. The attorneys for plaintiff are B. F. Dowell and Watson & Chapman. They appear to have taken a new tack in trying to bring the trouble between Ben and Joe to a solution and the "brothers in-law" may find that this suit will put an end to any need of further strife between them.

CHINESE INCENSED OVER A VERDICT.—In the state circuit court yesterday, the time for filing a motion for a new trial in the case of Ah Wong vs. Tong Yuen, was extended until Friday the 6th inst. This case has caused considerable excitement among the Chinese merchants here. Ah Wong sued Tong Yuen for $2000 alleged to be due him for an interest in a business he sold Tong Yuen. The jury found a verdict in favor of Ah Wong for the amount claimed. The verdict caused considerable surprise to Messrs. Adams & Welty, counsel for Tong Yuen, who claims that he owed Ah Wong nothing, and that the business was a job put up by Ah Wong to extort $2000 from him. A meeting of Chinese merchants was held Saturday evening, which was attended by nearly every member of that class here except Ah Wong, and there seemed to be a great unanimity of opinion in regard to the matter and a general belief in the statement of Tong Yuen. Several prominent lawyers were present and it was determined that a new trial of the case must be had. Messrs. Dolph, Bellinger, Mallory and Simon, were retained to defend the case, and yesterday took the first step by having the time of filing the motion for a new trial extended. Chinese merchants say if one of them can be cinched in this way others may be and they will unite to secure justice.

IT VANQUISHES FIRE.—The interest in the exhibition of the Harden Star Hand Grenade seems to be growing, if the size and character of the immense crowd that assembled yesterday afternoon at the corner of Morrison and Second streets is an indication. Every available space was taken up. Promptly at 4 o'clock a match was applied to a tall wooden flue lined with combustibles, the fire hissed and roared like a cataract. As the fire was leaping ten or twelve feet above the top of the chimney a grenade was broken into the fire at an opening near the base, and in a moment the fire was out from bottom to top. The structure next ignited was a partition of dry wood 16 feet high and 22 feet long with sides 6 feet wide and literally filled with split boards and shavings. The fire was so intensely hot that several were badly scorched before they could get out of the way. Into this literal sea of fire three or four little blue bottles were thrown and the fire was out in an instant to the surprise of every one. The exhibition was truly wonderful. Chief Morgan says their general adoption would materially lessen the number of disastrous fires and doubtless save the citizens of Portland thousands of dollars annually.

LITTLE HOODLUMS.—Charley Johnson and Willie Davey, two little fellows of ten or twelve summers, were found by policemen James and Cramer about 10 o'clock last evening sleeping under a barn at the corner of Fifth and Montgomery streets. They had a nest composed of cast off clothing and a few old sacks and horse blankets for covering. As solace for their leisure hours they had provided half a peck of the cheapest and stinkingest cigarettes and a small copy of the melodies of the lamented Mother Goose, so dear to the hearts of all youngsters. Just fancy these young shenanigans stowed away under a man's barn, each smoking a cigarette whose deathly odor caused the foul smells belonging to the place to seem like the odor of a bank of violets, and one of them listening attentively while the other read of "Old King Cole," or "Tom, Tom, the Piper's Son." The den of the lads will be examined to-day as it is supposed they have a cache of stolen goods there.

PLEADED GUILTY.—B. Gray, who stole a pair of pantaloons valued at $7 from the residence of William Henry on the 28th of December and was indicted by the grand jury on January 5, came up before Judge Smith yesterday. He entered a plea of simple larceny and will be sentenced to-day. James Smith, who stole a coat valued at $15 from the house of J. Haas on the 28th of January, also came up before Judge Smith and changed his plea of not guilty to guilty of simple larceny. He will also be sentenced to-day. And thus will be disposed of the men who stole the coat and pantaloons, and we pause to hear from the man who stole the vest.

COURT MARTIAL.—A general court martial is to meet at Fort Walla Walla to-day for the trial of First Lieutenant William C. Muhlenberg. The detail for the court is as follows: Colonel John P. Hatch, Capt. J. [illegible] Wheelan, Capt. [illegible] Huggins, Capt. W. C. Rawolle, Lieut. [illegible] W. Kingsbury of the Second cavalry; Major [illegible] Larned, paymaster; Capt. August H. Bainbridge, Capt. G. S. Carpenter, Capt. Thomas [illegible] Tolty, and Capt. Samuel McConihe, Lieut. [illegible] ward Evarts, assistant surgeon, L. [illegible] White, First artillery, and Capt. Frank D. Baldwin, judge advocate. John W. [illegible] will act as stenographer of the court.

THIRD DISTRICT TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—Professor E. B. McElroy, state superintendent of public instruction, has perfected arrangements for holding a teachers' institute in the third judicial district. Lafayette has been fixed upon as the place and Tuesday, March 31, as the day for the opening of the institute. It will continue in session April 1, 2 and 3. The public spirited citizens of Lafayette have already arranged to provide free entertainment to [illegible] teachers, and also free transportation from the depot to the city and return. The railroads will make the usual reduction in fares, and all teachers are invited to be present.

BUILDINGS SOLD.—The buildings standing on the site of the proposed new building of the Portland Savings bank at the southwest corner of Washington and Second streets were sold at auction yesterday by Gilman & Co. The corner building was bought by C. Carmichael for $[illegible] and the adjoining building by D. W. Crandall for $820. The little two story brick fronting on Second street went for $17.50. The buildings are to be removed by the 15th of this month, when the work of excavating for the new bank will be commenced.

AN UNLUCKY SHOT.—George Curry, while shooting at Sauvies' island Sunday, accidentally killed a ring-neck pheasant. He was shooting at some widgeon and a pheasant rose up before them and caught the charge. It was a good thing for the widgeon, but rough on the pheasant and George, who yesterday marched into Justice Bybee's office and paid his fine. It is evident that the pheasants placed on Sauvies' island have done well when they are gettin' so numerous as to be shot in this manner.

Commissioner Fred Page Tustin, on a charge of [illegible] He was required to give bail in the sum of [illegible] So many fellows are brought down from that [illegible] for retailing liquor to Indians, that it is quite an agreeable change to have a white [illegible]

[illegible]—In the state circuit court this morning Judge Smith will announce [illegible] in the following cases: [illegible] Wheeler; [illegible] motion to modify order allowing receiver to mortgage property; [illegible] vs. George Gloistein, motion to dissolve attachment.

JUDGMENTS SECURED.—In the state circuit court yesterday, I. R. Dawson was granted judgment by default against J. Barman for $[illegible] and Alex Mayer secured judgment against the same party for $2740. Van B. DeLashmutt was given judgment against E. Wineburg for $5000.

QUICK TRIP.—Mr. J. [illegible], the well known real estate man, and Mr. J. Ro[illegible], the contractor, arrived here yesterday from London. They left England February 14th, stopped one day in New York and another in Chicago, making the "running time" between London and Portland just two weeks. Mr. Clark will relocate in this city in his old business.

TALKING LEASE AGAIN.

The Northern Pacific Offer the O. R. & N. Five Per Cent for Three Years and Six Per Cent in Perpetuity

A New York special of February [illegible] has the following, which made some [illegible] reading [illegible]: The Northern Pacific has just made a definite proposal to the Oregon Railway & Navigation for its lease, the terms being a guarantee of 5 per cent for three years and 6 per cent in perpetuity. The Northern Pacific directors claim that this is the ultimatum; that they do not believe the Oregon Railway and Navigation can earn any larger dividends henceforth. They hold that most of the Columbia river traffic will be [illegible] the railway lines along the bank; also that the building of the road beyond Baker City to beyond Pendleton so as to connect with the Oregon Short Line, was a mistake, the regions [illegible] Pendleton not being productive. The Oregon Short Line should in their opinion have been allowed to make connection with the Oregon Railway & Navigation at its own expense.

As may be supposed, the Oregon Railway and Navigation directors entirely disagree with the Northern Pacific. Indeed, they seem not to believe it offers [illegible], suspecting that they are trying to [illegible] the property with a view to [illegible] their own terms. They [illegible] the probabilities of the Oregon Railway and Navigation company accepting any such lease. [illegible] dividends in the worst times and it is doubtful if it would agree to a proposal to guarantee [illegible]. Any talk looking to [illegible] is not likely to be listened to. The former negotiations between the two companies was, it will be remembered, on the basis of [illegible] to be guaranteed by the Northern Pacific to the Oregon Railway and Navigation company for two years, 7 per cent for three years and 8 per cent thereafter, the final disagreement occurring on the 8 per cent. The Northern Pacific had decided to take the lease, it is said, on these terms, but President Billings, [illegible] of the road, who had just returned from the northwest, so earnestly and vehemently opposed the lease that he carried his point. [illegible] Pierpont Morgan of the firm of Drexel, Morgan & Co., was so dissatisfied with this action [illegible] resigned from the directory. The Oregon Railway and Navigation Company [illegible] lower than [illegible] per cent for two [illegible] years and 7 per cent in perpetuity. It claims that the Union Pacific would gladly take the lease at those figures. It is of the opinion that the Northern Pacific's 5 and 6 per cent offer is only a feeler, and that its directors are [illegible] prepared to [illegible] higher. The important points of the lease [illegible] not likely to be settled for some time, whatever the outcome.

The late advance in Oregon Transcontinental stock is reported [illegible] due to the liberal earnings of the company and to unusually large purchases by parties who think the present prices considerably below its value.

DROPPED DEAD

Delos Jefferson of Marion County, a Student at the Medical College, Dies Suddenly of Heart Disease

Delos Edward Jefferson, a student at the Willamette Medical college in this city, dropped dead on the stone pavement in front of W. S. Ladd's residence on the south side of Jefferson, between Sixth and Seventh streets, about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The first who saw the young man lying on the sidewalk was Michael Duffy, driver of a butcher's delivery wagon. He stopped to see what was the matter and found that the prostrate man was dead. Several persons had collected at this time and some one went to the medical college for a doctor. Drs. S. E. Josephi and [illegible] hastened to the place, but were too late to save life, although every possible effort was made toward resuscitation. The body was taken to the room formerly occupied by the deceased and for an hour and a half the doctors worked against hope to bring back the departed spark of life. The coroner was then notified and took charge of the remains.

In the afternoon an inquest was held at which all the above facts were brought out and some others. Dr. [illegible] testified that he had known young Jefferson ever since he had been connected with the college. Jefferson had asked him on several occasions to examine his heart and pulse, and he had for some time been satisfied Jefferson had heart troubles. About 9 o'clock yesterday morning Jefferson came to [illegible] at the college and asked him to examine his heart. On examination he found so much disturbance of that organ that he felt sure Mr. Jefferson could not live long. The young man left the college to go to his room at the residence of James [illegible], No. 250 Third street. When the man came to the college and said some one had dropped dead in the street he felt certain it was Jefferson, and it so proved.

Dr. [illegible], who aided in the attempt to resuscitate the dead man, furnished a statement to the coroner's jury in which he expressed the belief that deceased came to his death by heart disease induced by inflammatory rheumatism, and a verdict was rendered in accordance with such statement.

Deceased was a son of Delos Jefferson, who resides about six miles south from Salem. He was for about one and a half years a student under Dr. L. L. Rowland of Salem, and had been attending the college here since November 10 of last year. His age is not exactly known, but is about 20 years.

He was a brother of the wife of Captain Bell of East Portland, and a young man quite well known and highly esteemed. His parents were notified by telegraph of his sudden death, and the remains will be taken to Salem for burial by this morning's train.

[illegible] MEETING

A Five Mill Tax Voted for the Ensuing Year

A VERY EXCITING DEBATE

Reports of the Board of Directors and Clerk—The [illegible] High School to be Completed at Once

The delegation of the taxpayers of school district No. 1, Multnomah county, Oregon, which attended the annual meeting at the court house last evening was a large one. Every seat in the spacious circuit court room was occupied and not a few were ranged in the aisles along the walls. Among this large audience was a score or more of school [illegible] interested listeners, though taking no part in the proceedings.

Mr. Wm. Wadhams, chairman of the board of directors, rapped the meeting to order at the appointed time and read the call published in the city papers. The minutes of the meeting of last year were read by the clerk and declared approved. Chairman Wadhams then read the following:

DIRECTORS' REPORT

To the Taxpayers of School District No. 1, Multnomah County, Oregon: The undersigned directors present their annual report for the fiscal year ending this day.

During the past year the Couch school building has been completed at a cost of $[illegible], making total cost of that building $38,0[illegible]. There are twelve class rooms in the building, all in use save one. At the beginning of next school year this room will doubtless be needed. The North school building has twelve class rooms all in use.

The tax of [illegible] mills voted last March [illegible] the possibility of completing the high school building, making it necessary to rent for the school year 1884-85 the old Central building from its present owner, Judge Marquam. A lease was made for twelve months from July 1, with the privilege of nine months longer should it be required, at a monthly rental of $[illegible] for the twelve school rooms and two of the store rooms under the building. At the commencement of the present school term it was found necessary to have room for another class and Judge Marquam kindly permitted the use of another store room free of charge until such time as he gets a bona fide offer for its use, and then the rent shall not exceed $[illegible] per month. There are now fifteen classes in the Central school.

All of the twelve class rooms in the Park building are in use, six of them by the high school and six by the primary department.

The Harrison street school is a [illegible] room [illegible]. All the twelve class rooms [illegible] in use and two more rooms are needed immediately to properly accommodate the children. Notwithstanding the boundaries of the portion of the district belonging to this school have been cut off, the number of children belonging thereto is rapidly increasing.

The [illegible] school building has twelve class rooms, [illegible] of which are in use.

It will doubtless be remembered that several years ago the directors found it necessary to divide the eighth grade classes, the children belonging to the eighth A attending school in the forenoon and those of the eighth B in the afternoon. Owing to the increase of numbers in the sixth and seventh grades in Harrison street school, also in the sixth of Park school, we have found it necessary to divide these classes, only permitting scholars of these classes to attend school three hours per day, as in case of the eighth grade, the sixth A and seventh A attending in the morning and sixth B and seventh B in the afternoon. If the recommendations of this board are granted it is believed that when the new High school is completed the district may be so divided as to give all the children above the eighth grade a full day's instruction provided there is no marked change in the present situation.

School attendance one year ago was [illegible]. At this time it is [illegible], an increase of [illegible], which is about the average advance in numbers for several years past. The attendance of the several schools is as follows:

The total number of teachers in employ of the department is 77, consisting of [illegible] class teachers, [illegible] principals, 2 supervisors, 1 drawing teacher and 1 superintendent.

The public school library, now in the Central building, contains 700 volumes.

There was included in the last year's estimate $[illegible] for this library, but less was expended. This year we think our estimate of $[illegible] will be required to replenish and make some repairs to the books.

Miss Kate F. Spalding deserves the thanks of the taxpayers for her continued voluntary services so faithfully given every Saturday in attendance upon the library.

The urgent necessity of completing the High school building being apparent to taxpayers generally as well as to the directors in particular, the question with the board has been as to how the building can be completed to permit occupancy without asking the taxpayers for a tax that would be burdensome. In view of the extraordinary stringency of the times this board deemed it advisable to ask the state legislature to increase the limit of indebtedness from $50,000 to $100,000. Our request has been granted, and the board hopes with your kind assistance this year to complete the building, at least so far that it may be used at the opening of the schools in September next or as soon thereafter as practicable. We have carefully estimated the probable income and expenditures for the ensuing year, which are as follows:

INCOME.

The deficit is accounted for principally by the reduction in the levy from [illegible] mills to [illegible] mills. The failure to secure this large amount of delinquent tax justly due this district was not the fault of our collector. A suit instituted in the U. S. court to compel the payment of the large part of this delinquent sum was decided against us. As will be seen from the clerk's report the total expenditures for the year have been $[illegible], a few hundred dollars less than the estimated income.

If we deduct the amount paid out on the high school, $[illegible], which with the exception of some necessary expenditures made to secure [illegible] the last annual meeting [illegible] and street improvements [illegible] has been $91,[illegible]. This is $[illegible] less than the income. According to this showing it will be seen that the levy of [illegible] mills together with the income from the county and state has been ample sufficient to pay current expenses. With interest and rent stopped, 3 mills on present valuation would raise enough funds to maintain the schools for the school year of ten months. The estimated [illegible] will [illegible] provide for interest, rent and street improvements on which [illegible]

The conclusions we have drawn from the foregoing considerations are as follows: That with the income from the state and county and sundry other sources, a levy of 3½ mills on the dollar for general school purposes and 1½ mills for a building fund [illegible] we shall be able to pay all current bills and have [illegible] building [illegible] This we believe [illegible] district $57,000, the interest on which will be more than met by the stopping of the rent we are now paying on the Central. We think it almost an imperative duty to use this rental money to pay interest on a loan which will enable us to place these children in safe and commodious quarters.

This board disclaims any intention of being prodigal with the funds of the district, or of creating any indebtedness that shall be burdensome to the taxpayers. They however believe the taxpayers would justly censure them should they erect school buildings that would be unsightly and not in keeping with those erected by the enterprising citizens of the city for business purposes or residences.

We beg the privilege of calling your attention to brief extracts from two reports heretofore presented the taxpayers.

In the school report of Hon. [illegible] King, superintendent of public schools of Portland for [illegible] the following:

Rev. G. H. Atkinson, D. D., [illegible] city [illegible] Public School System of Oregon:

It is proper to notice the efforts of the citizens of Portland to make their public school a model. They have given liberally of their time and money [illegible] professional standing [illegible] to make the system a success. They have proved that it is an enterprise that rewards faithful care and pays well for the investment. [illegible] but a public school system will [illegible] to be worked [illegible] every square [illegible] bears fruit [illegible] Its success in our city from the first growth upward commends it to every town or city [illegible] and to every settlement that would get the best [illegible] sparsely settled districts, and we know they exist, the advantage of a good school [illegible] three, six or nine months [illegible] No investment of a district is [illegible] as well as all the interests of a family [illegible] public school [illegible] It is a central light, attracting [illegible] controlling the mental and moral forces of the young and shaping [illegible] thus enriching a people by its [illegible] of power more than the richest [illegible] of silver or gold.

On Monday evening, March 1, 1880, at the regular annual meeting of the taxpayers of this district a committee of investigation was appointed to thoroughly investigate the public school department, particularly the high school. They were given until the 12th day of July following to report. The board of directors then consisted of William Wadhams, J. H. Northup and John Wilson. The committee made a full report which was published at that time and is found in the annual report of Prof. [illegible], superintendent of public schools for the district. On page 31 of that report we read: "They wish to commend the wisdom of directors in the choice of school sites and in the architecture and furnishings of the new buildings, and to express the hope that the old rooms will be improved as to light, ventilation and furnishings. Good school buildings and grounds neatly finished and furnished give a constant object lesson worth more as an example to instruct young and old than their extra cost over cheaper ones." This report is signed by the committee: G. H. Atkinson, Wm. Kapus, C. A. Dolph, A. [illegible], W. H. Watkins, C. F. Sitton, Mrs. [illegible] F. Burrell and Mrs. [illegible] H. Atkinson.

Is it true that the interest of the individual taxpayer suffers in thus voting upon himself the tax which is required to maintain the public schools to the highest degree of excellence? Is it not true that by so voting he thereby assists the common weal and helps to rear around him the strongest bulwark of human freedom? If as a people we desire a virtuous citizenship we must provide the means to secure a moral and intelligent citizenship. We must educate the youth of both sexes to a high point of excellence if we desire to see it reflected in the state. Hence the demands of the present should be cheerfully met in order to secure the happiness of a prosperous future. Business depression in our city and state is not a permanent thing. Already the light of better times is dawning in the east and will ere long dispel the shadows that now menace us. We should recall the struggles of our predecessors in times more trying than the present, their labors and their triumphs, their zeal and their confidence, and it is our duty as citizens to see that their labors do not go for naught, but on the contrary we should see to it that the [illegible] of the public schools [illegible] fidelity, receive your countenance and hearty support.

A human soul without education, like marble in the quarry, shows none of its inherent beauties. The polisher fetches out the colors, discovering every ornamental cloud and vein that runs through it. So too the wise or the good and the great may be hid and concealed, but education alone can discover and bring them to light. For the great purpose of education is to form the man and citizen that he may be virtuous and happy within himself and useful to society.

By referring to reports of school meetings for the past eight years we find the tax levy to have been as follows: 1878, 4½ mills; 1879, 4 mills; 1880, 4½ mills; 1881, 1882 and 1883, 5 mills; 1884, 3½ mills.

Careful estimates have been made as to the cost of completing the high school building according to plans and specifications by competent builders and they amount to $60,000, heating included.

In view of all of the above this board respectfully recommends to the taxpayers to levy a tax of five mills upon taxable property of the district for the year 1885.

The clerk's report was received and the chairman then read the following:

REPORT OF THE [illegible] COMMITTEE.

To the Taxpayers of School District No. 1: The undersigned, your committee appointed at the last annual school meeting to examine the books and accounts of Mr. Wm. [illegible], Jr., school clerk, beg leave to report that we have carefully examined the accounts and compared the vouchers [illegible] and find them correct. Respectfully submitted,

SAM [illegible],
SYLVESTER PENNOYER,
[illegible].

February 27, 1885.

Mr. Wm. [illegible] moved a vote of thanks to the clerk, which was unanimously carried [illegible] cheering.

Mr. [illegible] [illegible] Miss [illegible] Spalding [illegible] school librarian, which was unanimously adopted.

Upon motion of Mr. Failing the directors' report was taken from the table. The same gentleman moved that the estimates of the directors be accepted by the meeting; carried.

Mr. Failing then moved that a three and a half mills tax be levied for the support of the schools.

Mr. R. F. Bybee moved to amend by making it a five mills tax.

Mr. Failing said he thought he might be misunderstood, that for building purposes a supplementary tax might be levied.

Mr. Bybee said he thought when a person had to take a dose of medicine it was better to take it all at one dose. [illegible]

Judge J. W. Whalley rose to a point of order. He said the amendment did not state for what purpose the 5 mill tax was to be used. He thought it best for the meeting to [illegible] the amounts and then afterwards [illegible]

Chairman Wadhams [illegible] not necessary to levy two taxes [illegible] question.

[illegible]

Mr. Richard Williams thought both motion and amendment should be reduced to writing so the board might know what they had done when the meeting should adjourn.

Mr. Honeyman asked the chair to rule upon the [illegible] two motions [illegible] desired. He [illegible] Mr. [illegible]'s amendment would not permit any of the money so raised to be used for building purposes.

Mr. H. H. Northup gaining the attention of the chair offered the following as a substitute for Mr. Failing's motion and Mr. Bybee's amendment:

Resolved, That a tax be levied of 5 mills, of which 3½ shall be used for the support of the schools and 1½ for a building fund.

Mr. Bybee accepted this and withdrew his motion.

Mr. J. W. Whalley moved to divide the question.

County Superintendent O. F. Paxton read the law to show that the tax in one year must be raised upon one levy.

The chair then put Mr. Whalley's motion and declared it lost.

Mr. Whalley asked for a division, which the chair denied, reiterating his decision that the motion was lost. Whereupon Mr. Whalley took his hat and started to leave the room.

This brought Mr. Richard Williams to his feet, who in stentorian tones denounced the action of the chairman and declared it to be an outrage and an insult. "Let the taxpayers in this meeting stand up and be counted," said the speaker.

After considerable further wrangling it was decided that Mr. Northup's substitute took precedence and superseded all other motions. There being some objection Mr. Northup withdrew his substitute, which left Mr. Failing's first motion at the beginning of the discussion as the one now before the meeting. He was then permitted to withdraw that motion and offer the following, which he hoped would suit all:

Resolved, That three and a half mills of the tax to be levied shall be used for the support of the public schools exclusive of building purposes.

This motion was carried with only one dissenting voice.

Mr. B. L. Norden then moved that a five mill tax be levied for school and building purposes.

Mr. [illegible] O'Hara wanted the list of taxpayers called upon this vote, and let those who are so entitled vote "yes" or "no."

Mr. Whalley moved to refer the motion of Mr. Norden, together with the recommendation of the directors, to a special committee of twelve persons, which committee shall report at an adjourned meeting.

After some discussion the motion to refer was lost.

Mr. Norden's motion was then put to a viva voce vote, although Mr. Whalley called for the yeas and nays, and apparently carried. A division was called for by Mr. Whalley. The clerk did the counting and, knowing every taxpayer, his figures may be considered correct. He reported the following result: Yeas 1[illegible]8, nays, 45. The motion to levy a five mill tax was accordingly declared carried.

Upon motion of Mr. Bybee the meeting then adjourned.

REV. P. S. KNIGHT'S LECTURE

The second lecture of the members' course took place last evening in Y. M. C. A. hall. A piano solo consisting of original music was brilliantly rendered by Miss Laura Tate, after which Prof. H. K. Warren in a few preliminary remarks introduced as the lecturer of the evening the Rev. P. S. Knight, who announced as his subject "Scientific Theism." Following is a brief synopsis:

What is theism? A belief in God. This doctrine has passed through various changes as the world has passed through the ages. The lowest form of theism is fetichism, which is the worship of seen or natural objects. The next phase is polytheism, the worship and belief in many gods who represent these same natural objects. Progressing on results in pantheism, which sees God in all things, but recognizes no one supreme being. In its turn from this evolves theism, the belief and acceptance of one true supreme and everlasting God. What is science? False notions have always prevailed and do to-day. Science is simply classified knowledge. Science began when Adam caused the first animals to pass before him. A boy who first treads with bare feet upon a hot coal takes a lesson in it. Scientific theism is then a doctrine of God which is substantiated by what we know. In nature we find law—law implies a law giver. We trace from law to law, and yet when we reach the limit of our comprehension we still find law and obedience to it. In nature we find matter, force and will. Shall we stop at the second of these three and recognize no will? In history we see evidences of an unseen hand—one plainly apparent. Retribution and poetic justice are there declared. Nations have built better than they knew. Behind all we see the guiding hand of God. In human nature we find reason, imagination and conscience. By reason we grasp truth, but where is this truth? It is contained in the mind. Shall we not say with a famous Frenchman that truth is the abstract name of God, as God is the proper name of truth? Thought implies a thinker, work a worker, and thoughts and works are all traceable to the great author. While we seek truth by reason, by imagination we seek the ideal and beautiful. Tyndall realizes this and declares that he who would make successful research into science must supply it from imagination. We turn to conscience, which enables us to set up a standard of justice. Every criminal has, before violating the law of his land, violated the law of his conscience. From charity result benevolence and society, which both spring from the heart of man. Reason is our guide and charity our motor. Go where you will, search where you will and you will find the religious instinct. Whence comes it? What does it lead to? And what does it imply? All these principles of nature lead us to an ultimate power before whom the ages have legitimately bowed.

WHEAT—Cablegrams note a rather improved feeling abroad to-day in cargoes off coast a number having recently sold for French account. War rumors have not furnished the least excitement in connection with wheat and can not be expected to unless the powers get down to serious fighting work. The local market is very quiet by far the bulk of purchases being made in the interior at about last quotations. Receipts of valley continue steadily light yet fair for the time of year. Those from the eastern section for local account are from Snake river. Stocks there have certainly been exaggerated for the present fleet of four boats do not find a satisfactory business and one will probably be soon withdrawn

Minneapolis advices report wheat receipts as being very light. Weather and roads have been favorable for marketing grain, and the association advanced prices in the country but the farmers seem to have disposed of all that they felt compelled to and are now holding what they have left for better prices. Sensational reports of hot wheat there and at Duluth caused some excitement among the trade but prompt and authoritative denial was made and all are breathing freely again. The Miller's association issued a circular warning elevator men to be on their guard against unsound and unfit wheat for milling. The approach of hot weather is new cause for caution and it was feared that considerable of the remaining wheat is unsound. The Minneapolis mills are doing a light grinding water power giving constant trouble. Steam mills worked steadily and produced a full half of last week's output

GEO TERRY District Clerk

Upon motion of F. O. Doud the report was adopted

Mr Sellwood chairman then read the following

DIRECTORS ANNUAL REPORT

To the Taxpayers of District No 21—The undersigned board of directors in accordance to an established custom present for your consideration their annual report for the fiscal school year just closed

It has been the object of the board to administer the affairs of the district on strictly business principles—to use economy in every expenditure and to make the schools worthy of your respect and support

There are now employed in the schools sixteen teachers fifteen female and one male—eleven in Central school, one in [illegible] school, one in rented room in Odd Fellows hall building, and three in the school in Stephens' addition

With the growth of population in the district which required an increase in the number of teachers it was deemed best on the opening of the schools last September that the principal give half his time to the work of general supervision of the schools. This arrangement has proven quite satisfactory

The high school department, while yet in a very incomplete state is doing good work and the time is not far distant when it will become all that a high school should be. Three young ladies will graduate next June, the first to receive the honors of our schools. This will mark a new era in our public schools and should be a source of congratulation to the district

Two years ago the school year was reduced from ten to nine months. The result has been all that could be wished for the change. Less time has been given to examinations and more to actual work. A constant effort has been made to secure thoroughness in every department and in the main the result has been quite satisfactory. The work done by the schools the past year shows painstaking efforts on the part of the teachers and a greater interest than heretofore has been manifested by the patrons of the schools. During the winter one week of school was rendered almost useless by the severe snow storm which visited this valley, yet notwithstanding this interruption the work for the year will be completed in all the grades

The library belonging to the school is very small and wholly inadequate for the wants of the pupils. Our schools should be furnished with a good library. This can be done by adding to it each year. The sum of $50 appropriated every year would add materially to the library and would be money well invested

The Central building is in pretty good repair with the exception of outside painting. Two good coats of paint on the outside would add materially to the preservation of the building

The Stephens' addition school building has the south wing completed. The upper room and the stairways were finished the past summer at a cost of $822 05. This wing consists of two good rooms, well arranged for light and are easy of exit in case of fire. The old one story building containing one room is only two feet from the wing of the new building so that the light from the south is very much obstructed. This building will have to be removed whenever the work of erecting the main part is undertaken

The primary department of the schools is very much overcrowded. The teacher in Odd Fellows building has in daily attendance from 90 to 100 pupils. Immediate steps will have to be taken to rent another room and employ an additional teacher in this grade

At the last annual meeting the directors were empowered to issue the bonds of the district to the amount of $10 000, at a rate not exceeding 8 per cent for the purchase of a block in the northern part of the district and to commence the erection of a school building thereon. A stringency in the money market prevented the board from carrying out the wishes of the district. If you deem it best, to meet any emergency that may arise during the ensuing year that the same provision be made, you should by resolution place the same power in the hands of the directors

The whole assessable property of the district amounts to $1 413 770 upon which an indebtedness was claimed of $62 210, leaving $1,351 560 upon which a tax of 3 mills levied last year gives $4 054 [illegible] of which amount $3 [illegible] has been collected. There is now in the hands of the school clerk $[illegible] 21. Two years ago 1½ mills of the tax levied was to be used toward the purchase of a block in the northern part of the district. During the past two years the board has been obliged to use this fund for the running expenses of the schools. This fund amounted to $1[illegible]00. The district is still in debt to the fund the sum of $[illegible]

We desire to bear testimony to the faithfulness of the school clerk Mr George Terry to his uniform readiness to aid the board in our labors and for the efficient manner in which he has kept the books.

The number of pupils enrolled this year is 961 against 84[illegible] last year. This is an increase of 122 pupils. This number would have been augmented somewhat if the lower grades had not been overcrowded. Many did not enter their children on account of the crowded condition of the primary grades

At the same rate of increase and we may expect a larger several additional teachers will have to be employed and school rooms rented for their accommodation

After a careful estimate of the requirements for the coming year we find that a three mill tax will be needed for the current expenses of the schools in order to keep them up to the standard of present excellence. The board would therefore recommend that that amount be levied

Someone has said that "taxes raised for the purposes of education are like vapors which rise only to descend again in fertilizing showers to bless and beautify the land." John Adams well said "laws for the liberal education of the youth especially of the lower class are so extremely wise and useful that to a humane and generous mind no expense for this purpose would be thought extravagant"

The work of the past year is completed the possibilities of the future rest with you

Respectfully submitted

Board of Directors

Upon motion of J. N. Sanders the report was adopted

TAX LEVY

J. N. Sanders moved that a three mill tax be levied for the purposes stated in the call

F. O. Doud amended to levy a tax of $4000

After some discussion the amendment was lost and the motion carried by overwhelming majorities

ISSUANCE OF BONDS AUTHORIZED

Mr Cyrus Dickinson moved that the directors be empowered to issue bonds for $10 000 or less for not more than ten years nor less than five at a rate of interest not exceeding 8 per cent for the purpose of purchasing grounds and erecting suitable school buildings thereon in the northern part of the district carried. This is similar to the resolution passed last year, and referred to in the directors' report.

Mr F. Heintz then moved the adoption of a similar resolution for the purpose of completing the school building in Stephens' addition

Wm Dalton amended to read $5000 instead of $10 000

The amendment was adopted by a vote of 2[illegible] against 12

The motion as amended was then put and a rising vote taken. The vote resulted in a tie of [illegible] and a second vote was ordered which again resulted in a tie this time 2[illegible]. On the third vote the motion was lost by 2[illegible] noes against 25 ayes

AID FOR LIBRARY

On motion of F. O. Doud the directors were directed to spend $50 for the purpose of adding to the public school library

TO POSTMASTERS.

The following circular has been sent out from Washington relative to applications for review of salaries of postmasters

OFFICE OF THE POSTMASTER GENERAL, WASHINGTON D C, Feb 13, 1885

Postmasters who are entitled to readjustment of their salaries under the provisions of the act of March 3, 1883 are hereby notified that their claims will be as speedily adjusted through a direct application addressed to the First Assistant Postmaster General as though they employed agents to present them before the department. Such applications must be written and signed by the postmaster. The postmaster [illegible] entitled to readjustment

It is earnestly desired that these claims be directly presented after they have been computed [illegible] the clerical force of this office [illegible] will secure to the claimant all that may be found due them without being obliged to reimburse third parties out of [illegible] for pretended services to secure an order [illegible] of one claim before another [illegible] final payment of the amount found to be due which in no instance will [illegible] the services of an attorney [illegible] justify [illegible] to insure prompt [illegible] part of the department

WOMAN TEACHERS

PORTLAND [illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Some of the friends of the women teachers in the public schools of Portland have called on me to inquire whether I would if elected school director advocate a reduction of the salaries paid the women teachers in the schools as it had been reported to them such would be the case. I have to say in reply to this that I am not in favor of a reduction of the salaries of the women employed as teachers. I believe in the employment of women as teachers. I believe women are specially well qualified to teach and as there are so few vocations open to women in which they can earn a living they should be given a preference as teachers and at the same salary as men are paid, other things being equal

Respectfully yours D. P. THOMPSON

By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette
